Look Chic on the Slopes: The Best Ski Style from Aspen to Zermatt

DECEMBER 10, 2014 by ALESSANDRA CODINHA | edited by KELLY CONNOR

Whether you're an accomplished skier or snow bunny, a true beginner without the first clue how to slalom, or more of a chalet-bound, "meet me by the fire" type, ski season always brings with it one major hurdle: How the heck do you look chic (and stay warm) while hurtling down a mountain? Well, worry no longer: we've got the best looks for streaming down the slopes at Whistler or glugging Glühwein with your pals après-ski in Kitzbühel, whether you're headed to Aspen or Zermatt, Jackson Hole or Val-d'Isère; because your slope style matters too. Here, the best looks for every locale worth its powder.
